As we finish out the seventh week of the school year...

1. Let's hit the "one-week-delay" button on both the next fire drill (pushed back to next Friday 10/25) and the next lockdown drill (now tentatively set for Friday 11/1) due to some scheduling conflicts.
2. If the "Breathe Out" spirit moves you, please consider bringing students outside today. Special thanks to Kevin Lalli and the students he advises for once again spearheading this positive initiative.
3. Don't forget the next freshman advisory meeting is scheduled for Tuesday (Oct. 22nd) during the second half of D Block.
4. The Hingham METCO program sold lots of T-shirts at Homecoming but it's not too late to get yours. Short-sleeve shirts (still in stock) are $20 and long-sleeve shirts (currently back-ordered but available for delivery) are $25. The material is "Tech Wick" sweat resistant. Even better: All proceeds go to benefit the new Camilla L. Roundtree Scholarship, which will go to one graduating METCO senior each year who embodies community service, leadership, and social justice. View the design below and please consider placing an order with Carols Perez (cperez@hinghamschools.org).

5. Some very bittersweet news: HHS alumna Liz Ingoldsby, a para-educator here since 2017, will be leaving in about two weeks. The reason? She secured her first teaching position as an art teacher at the Boston Higashi School in Randolph. Congratulations, Liz! We'll miss you!

Have a great weekend, everybody!
